Invitation from the President

NYSSMA®: Investing in Our Future!

Dear Music Colleagues and Advocates,

I am thrilled to extend a cordial invitation to you for the upcoming annual NYSSMA® Winter Conference!

The annual event will take place over four enriching days from December 5 through December 8, at the Joseph H. Floreano Rochester Riverside Convention Center and adjoining hotels, Rochester, New York.

The Winter Conference is more than an event; it is a cherished opportunity to reconnect with colleagues, teachers, and fellow music professionals and music education enthusiasts. It's a time to celebrate our discipline, enjoy our comradery, invest in our commitment, and explore innovative approaches to meeting the diverse needs of our students and our programs.

- Experience seven inspiring Concert Hours featuring fourteen performing groups from schools throughout our State -- collegiate, urban, rural, and suburban; showcasing their investment and demonstrating their talents.
- Choose from over 150 sessions covering a wide range of skills and topics integral to music education and music performance.
- Explore the offerings of a diverse array of exhibitors showcasing everything from instrumental and choral performance tools to music technology, sheet music, travel, merchandise as well as outstanding collegiate music programs.
- Engage with directors, composers, music advocates, and industry experts to exchange ideas, network, and build personal and professional connections.
- Witness the culmination of our summit with the return of 8 All-State Ensembles to the stage, highlighting the pinnacle of student musical achievement.

At the heart of our conference is a commitment to our students' education and success. This annual gathering is a vital investment in promoting and celebrating music education, reconnecting with friends and colleagues, and ensuring music vitality and relevance in our communities. Come and embrace the power of music education and contribute to fostering a community dedicated to its growth and excellence.

Please join me and our fellow NYSSMA members in Rochester on December 5 – 8, as we work to Invest in our Future at the 88th Annual NYSSMA® Winter Conference.
